INSIDE

Giving back

The 25th Special Troops Battalion teams up with Iraqi Police in Al Sequor to provide school supplies for 1,000 children

A-3

AMR Town Hall

The next Oahu South Town hall meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 7, at 6:30 p.m. in Aliamanu Military Reservation Chapel. Call 438-6147 for more information.

Mahalo, warriors

Three Soldiers with more than 67 years of Army experience begin new chapters in their lives

A-5

Pros in training

More than 400 aspiring football players swarm the field at AMR, get tips from island's top pros

B-1

This issue

Lightning Spirit News Briefs MWR Community

Sports & Fitness

Story and Photo by
JEREMY S. BUDDEMEIER Assistant Editor

Like almost everyone, U.S. Army Garrison, Hawaii is looking to stretch its dollars further and make more efficient use of resources.

To accomplish this goal, garrison leaders are embracing the Lean Six Sigma (L6S) business improvement model. Col. Howard Killian, commander, U.S. Army Garrison, Hawaii, introduced the basics of LSS to more than 180 garrison employees during a town hall meeting at the Sgt. Smith Theater, Tuesday.

Although some audience members were familiar with Lean Six Sigma, many were hearing the information for the first time.

"The 'Lean' is about efficiency," Killian began, while the "Six Sigma" focuses on eliminating errors and improving quality, he Killian delivered a layman's version of the model – at times dipping into the technical jargon of the program such as "PowerSteering" and "Black Belts" - and acknowledged L6S's similarities to Total Quality Management, which was used in the past to improve quality and customer satisfaction.

analytical and quality management tools in a structured framework to ensure success," said Nancy Ragusa, chief of Plans. Analysis. Integration Division, Directorate of Resource Management (DRM-PAID). "Garrison employees are actually using L6S techniques right now as they execute their work, the difference is, these positive changes aren't documented and controlled as outlined in L6S.'

Though still in its infancy at garrison and the 25th Infantry Division, both organiza-

SEE SIGMA, A-4

Firefighters from the Federal Fire Department Station 14 pry and cut away crushed metal during a sobering simulated rescue demonstration of the Jaws of Life and other tools designed to extract someone from a car wreck at the Motor Vehicle Safety Day, Jan 26.

Safety Day makes training fun

JOHN REESE

U.S. Army Garrison, Hawaii, Public Affairs

WHEELER ARMY AIR FIELD - What could have been a morning of the same-old safety briefings was transformed into a festive atmosphere of hands-on challenges and demonstrations here Jan. 26, as the garrison safety office conducted the first Motor Vehicle Safety Day of 2007.

More than 2,800 Soldiers, family members and Department of Defense civilians tested their skills on three different driving and motorcycling challenges and visited vendor booths with safety-related con-

The aroma of barbecued hamburgers and hot dogs wafting through the air under a cooperative blue sky made the morning feel like a day at a county fair.

The first part of the training involved slide shows at the individual units, covering everything from walking hazards to office safety and personal safety, thus meeting a semiannual safety requirement, said Bill Maxwell, Traffic Safety Program

Participants tested their skills in the motorcycle and car skill events, and the driving under the influence (DUI) avoidance

The idea of a Motor Vehicle Safety Day is to make Soldiers aware and be safe when they're out on the weekends, said "Chief" Sammy Houseberg, safety director.

Maj. Gen. William H. Brandenburg, commander, 8th Theater Sustainment Command, was briefed on the activities and then took part in the events.

"Have you ever been on a motorcycle?"

SEE SAFETY, A-6

Tripler honors top blood donors of 2006

AIKO BRUM

Command Information Officer

WAIKIKI – The blood supply at Tripler Army Medical Center (TAMC) peaks and ebbs with the generosity, or lack thereof, of donors.

Yet, most beneficiaries don't realize that Tripler counts on a steady stream of volunteers to donate blood for both critically ill and injured military patients in Hawaii - that is, active duty, retired, reserve, guard and family members - and for forces fighting the global war on terrorism in Afghanistan and Iraq, as well as occasional shipments to Guam and

Spc. Matthew Pivovar and Maj. Gen. Carla G. Hawley-Bowland share a laugh during the blood donor award ceremony, Jan. 26

The ceremony hostess, Nancy Piper, chief

thank some of the division's most valuable as-

'Volunteers inspire

"They inspire the people

One by one, the vol-sets – its volunteers.

of Army Community Services, said this event was necessary to acknowledge and

These missions keep the need for donations quite high, said Capt. Harry McDonald, chief of Transfusion Medicine at Tripler.

"For these reasons, we need increased command emphasis and support from units and their leaders, more now than at any other time," he said.

In 2006 McDonald explained TAMC en joyed a record-breaking year, collecting more than 4,800 blood products, amounting to 1,800 more units than in previous years. Mc-Donald is quick to point out that levels are

SEE DONORS, A-6

Lean Six Sigma hits USAG-HI Wives connect, share at meeting

Story and Photo by KHALIDA DUBOSE

HELEMANO MILITARY RESER-VATION - Lucy Manley raised her hands up to the ceiling, closed her eyes and tilted her head upward as she sang Christian tunes with more than 100 women who found sisterhood, support, encouragement and passion to keep moving for-

Manley, whose husband is currently deployed, was one of many military wives who attended the Wives of Warriors World Wide conference Jan. 26 and 27.

"I think this couldn't have come at a better time for women whose husbands are currently deployed or are about to deploy," said Margie Banach, a conference

New and veteran wives alike poured into Helemano Military Reservation Chapel after dropping off their children at the conference's sponsored child care facility or a Bible-based program for older children.

The first day of the conference was laced with humor as ladies got to know each other and had a good time laughing, joking and singing together. Wives from five military installations island-wide including Schofield Barracks, Fort Shafter, Hickam Air Force Base, Pearl Harbor and Kaneohe Marine Corps Base threw their hands up in the air, prayed and let go of outside

Carol Simpson, the first speaker for the conference, shared her message of hope, "Thrivin' it - Not Just Strivin," by putting a humorous spin on an important message. Simpson made light on topics such as deployment, stress and raising children as a single moth-

"If you're not ripening, you're rotting," Simpson told the audience, "I want to continue to grow, to thrive, to get better [while her husband is gone]. I'm here to tell you ladies, get out of your cocoon. Get out and do something."

Simpson acknowledged that there would be bad days, but her overall message to wives was that if they turned to God, he would carry them through hard times.

"[I came] because my spirit needs to be lifted and the Lord lifts when we congregate," said Willette Gore, whose husband has deployed six times during his military career.

Gore originally became inter-

SEE WIVES, A-2

Volunteers receive awards for their selfless service on Oahu

CHRISTA B. THOMAS

Soldiers, friends and family members convened in the Schofield Barracks Post Conference Room Jan. 26 for the Quarterly Volunteer Recognition Ceremony. The ceremony honored eight volunteers for their generous donations of time and energy.

We recognize all of you for volunteering in various capacities," said Col. Timothy Ryan, rear detachment commander, "from taking care of special needs families to families of Soldiers deployed to Iraq.

"But it's really about your heart and attitude," he said. "That is what inspires us as Division; and Jane Taylor, wife of Comby example," Piper said. they help as well as inspire others to service."

unteers were called to the podium to be commended by Ryan; Rhonda Mixon, wife of Maj. Gen. Benjamin R. Mixon, commanding general, 25th Infantry mand Sgt. Maj. Jerry L. Taylor.

The volunteers were each presented with a certificate of appreciation signed by Maj.

Gen. Mixon and a 25th ID pin. Thirteen year-old Jessica Preston, a Mililani High School student, received community agency accolades for volunteering at Schofield's Main Post Chapel teaching Sunday school to pre-school children. She also lends her child care services during regular family readiness group (FRG) meet-Preston said she didn't expect to be rewarded for doing the things that she really likes to do, which is mainly helping others Seven volunteers received brigade-level recognition.

Julie Walsh was awarded the Volunteer

Ambassador Lokahi Award for 2nd Brigade. "Her intimate dealings with the Exceptional Family Member Program director and the Hawaii Disabilities group facilitated the funding of an interpreter for a hearing impaired family member," said Piper. "She also helped coordinate a Christmas party for 250 guests, which greatly increased the quality of life of her [FRG].

Jennifer St. Pierre volunteered through a 2nd Brigade FRG. She served as a platoon point of contact for family members and was instrumental in raising funds for FRG activities Like St. Pierre, many volunteers were cited for their diligent fundraising efforts.

SEE AWARD, A-4

We want to hear from you...

The Hawaii Army Weekly welcomes articles from Army organizations, announcements from the general public about community events of interest to the military community, and letters and commentaries.

If you have newsworthy ideas or stories you'd like to write, coordinate with the managing editor at 655-4816, or e-mail editor@hawaiiarmyweek-

The editorial deadline for articles and announcements is the Friday prior to Friday publications. Prior coordination is mandatory.

Articles must be text or Word files with complete information, no abbreviations; accompanying photographs must be digital, high resolution, jpeg files with full captions and bylines.

The Hawaii Army Weekly is an authorized newspaper and is published in the interest of the U.S. Army community in Hawaii.

All editorial content of the Hawaii Army Weekly is the responsibility of the U.S. Army, Hawaii Public Affairs Office, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii 96857. Contents of the Hawaii Army Weekly are not necessarily the offi cial views of, or endorsed by, the U.S. Government or the Department of the

The Hawaii Army Weekly is printed by The Honolulu Advertiser, a private firm in no way connected with the U.S. Government, under exclusive written agreement with the U.S. Army,

The Hawaii Army Weekly is published weekly using the offset method of reproduction and has a printed circulation of 15,300

Everything advertised in this publication shall be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, marital status, physical handicap, political affiliation, or any other non-merit factor of the purchaser, user or patron.

The appearance of advertising in this publication, including inserts and supplements, does not constitute endorsement by the Department of the Army, or The Honolulu Advertiser, of the firms, products or services ad-

ARMYWEEKLY

Commander, U.S. Army Garrison Col. Howard J. Killian

Public Affairs Officer Troy Griffin

Command Information Officer/

Managing Editor

Aiko Rose Brum editor@hawaiiarmyweekly.com

Assistant Editor Jeremy S. Buddemeier

news@hawaiiarmvweeklv.com

Pau Hana Editor

Christa B. Thomas community@hawaiiarmyweekly.com

Staff Writer

Khalida DuBose

Layout Leah Mayo

Advertising: 525-7654 Editorial Office: 655-4816/8728

Fax: 655-9290

Address: Public Affairs Office

Bldg. 580, Stop 215 Schofield Barracks, HI 96857 Web site:

Wives: Conference encourages ladies to thrive ested in the conference when she took a Wives of Warriors class last year. After taking the class, Gore knew she could expect to hear a message from the speakers that would motivate and encourage her during hard times, she said.

"I heard about it and thought it would be an interesting conference. I thought it would be nice to hear some godly women speak about being military wives and offer advice," said Kelly Gabrielson, whose husband is stationed at Pearl Harbor.

Gabrielson said she was looking for little nuggets of wisdom that will help her when she is experiencing stress or when she is worried.

The second day of the conference wives met from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. for praise and worship, and three sessions with speakers Doris Waldrop, founder of WoWW and Jenny Norwood. Waldrop covered topics such as "Creative Coping" and "Making Stress Work for You." Norwood covered "Strengthening Your Marriage.'

The foci for Waldrop's coping session were fearless faith, compassion, flexibility and loneliness, among others. Waldrop explained to the women how changing their thinking, among other factors such as turning to God, can help them to better cope and manage stress.

Norwood's message about marriage was,

Katie Payne, conference organizer (left, in blue jacket), and Carol Simpson (center, in green) applaud during the first night of the Wives of Warriors World Wide conference at Helemano Military Reservation, Jan. 26. Through her sense of humor, Simpson, one of the event guest speakers, encouraged ladies to "thrive, not just strive" while their husbands are deployed.

"working on my marriage does not mean working on my husband." She highlighted ways in which wives can build their marriages and get through hard times.

"It was good to laugh. I appreciate how real Carol was," said Manley, the first night of the conference. "I was real impressed Waldrop and Norwood have 47 years of combined experience as military wives and Simpson's husband is currently finishing up a tour in Iraq.

Courts-Martial

Privates discharged for desertion

To deter misconduct and to inform the division's Soldiers and civilians of military justice trends, the Office of the Staff Judge Advocate publishes the results of the following recent courts-martial:

Over the past month, nine Soldiers were tried, found guilty, and sentenced for various offenses occurring on and off Schofield Barracks.

· A sergeant from Medical Company A, Tripler Army Medical Center, was sentenced by a military judge at a special court martial to be reduced to the grade of E-1, forfeiture of $867.00 pay per month for twelve months, to be confined for four months, to be discharged with a bad-conduct discharge, and to be reprimanded for false official statement and larceny of government

 A specialist from Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 8th Special Troops Battalion, was sentenced by a military judge at a general court martial to be confined for fifteen months for absent without leave, wrongful use of controlled substance, and larceny.

• A private first class from Rear Detachment, 3rd Squadron, 4th Cavalry Regiment, 3rd Infantry Brigade Combat Team, was sentenced by a military judge at a general court martial, to be reduced to the grade of E-1, to be confined for 120 months, and to be dishonorably discharged from the service for rape, aggravated assault, burglary, and communicating a threat.

A private from Rear Detachment, 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry Battalion, Why does the Hawaii Army Weekly publish court-martial findings? The Office of the Staff Judge Advocate releases the results of recent courts-martial for publication to inform the com-

3rd Infantry Brigade Combat Team, was sentenced by a military judge at a special court martial, to be reduced to the grade of E-1, to be confined for four months, and to be discharged with a bad-conduct discharge for desertion, being absent without leave, and wrongful use of a controlled substance.

munity of military justice trends and to deter future misconduct by Soldiers.

• A private from Rear Detachment, 2nd Battalion, 27th Infantry Battalion, 3rd Infantry Brigade Combat Team, was sentenced by a military judge at a special court martial, to be confined for five months, and to be discharged with a bad-conduct discharge for desertion.

• A private from B Company, 1st Battalion, 21st Infantry Regiment, 2nd Brigade, was sentenced by a military judge at a special court martial, to be reduced to the grade of E-1, to be confined for seven months, and to be discharged with a bad-conduct discharge for desertion, absent without leave, and wrongful use of a controlled substance.

private from Rear Detachment, 209th Aviation Support Battalion, 25th Combat Aviation Brigade, was sentenced by a military judge at a special courtmartial to be reprimanded, to be reduced to the grade of E-1, forfeiture of $867.00 pay per month for five months, and to be confined for five months for absent without leave and missed movement.

· A private from Rear Detachment, 13th Military Police Detachment, 728th Military Police Battalion, was sentenced by a military judge at a general courtmartial to forfeiture of $900.00 pay per month for 13 months, to be confined for 13 months, and to be discharged with a bad-conduct discharge for wrongful use of a controlled substance.

• A private from 71st Chemical Company, 8th Special Troops Battalion, was sentenced by a military judge at a special court-martial to be confined for seven months, and to be discharged with a bad-conduct discharge for disobeying a commissioned officer, disrespect toward a noncommissioned officer, disobeying a lawful general order, absent without leave, and wrongful use/possession of controlled substance.

In addition to forfeitures of pay (either adjudged or by operation of law), confinement, and a punitive discharge, each Soldier will also have a federal conviction that the he or she must report when filling out a job application. This federal conviction may strip the Soldier of some civil rights, such as the right to purchase and maintain firearms, and the right to

LIGHTNING SPIRIT

Waiting, playing it safe risks more than taking action

CHAPLAIN (LT. COL.) JOEL A. LYTLE Community Chaplain, Schofield Barracks

In the face of change, it's easy to think that the proper course of action is inaction. Some might say, "If I just hold on until the storm passes, I'll be okay." But doing nothing is not God's plan for his children. He calls us to be workers in the field, not because it is safe to work in the field, but because "the fields are white unto harvest" (John 4:34). The world seems to be accelerating around us and we are tempted to play it safe and risk nothing.

Some things that appear dangerous are actually much less hazardous than their safer-looking alternatives. For example, commercial airline travel is 30 times safer that transportation by car. That really makes no sense on the surface, but the statistics don't lie.

The same is true for us as we travel through life. Following the Lord at times may seem perilous, but in reality it is the safest way to travel through life's journey. Paul wanted Timothy to experience the same security he knew. He reminded him to be sensitive to the spirit's leading. He explained that the path that involves suffering for the Lord is ultimately safer than all other alternatives.

That's why Paul could declare with confidence, "I know whom I have believed and am persuaded that He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day" (2 Timo-

There is no greater truth and promise for all the Schofield Barracks community. It's no easy task to be in the Army during times of war. Everyday we sit on the edge of our chairs wondering how our deployed Soldiers and their families are do-

Some families chose to remain here and these families at times feel very isolated and alone. Even when the community reaches out to care, some choose not to accept the help. Also, the caregivers often feel overwhelmed with the stresses and at times feel like quitting. They feel just as isolated and alone and at time say, "If I just hold on until the storm passes, I'll be okay.'

Yet this promise that Paul gave to Timothy is also real to us. We can be sure that our Lord is just as able to "keep that which we have committed unto Him." The only thing that will prevent God from securing us is if we choose to do nothing.

My prayer for all is that we will ensure that each day we commit ourselves and our cares to a God capable of keeping them for us.

Remember, a division trainthe first 100 consecutive days with no accidental fatalities Current as of 1/31/07.

"It's jammed, I'm tellin' ya http://www.25idl.army.mil/haw.asp JAMMED!" since last fatal accident Soldiers, as your daily reminder to be safe, place a "red dot" on your wristwatch. ing holiday will be awarded for

"What do you do to relieve stress?"

"Spend time with my wife."

Pfc. Charles Griffin 536 Maint. Co Electronics Repairer

"Workout and spend time with family."

CWO Tomi 325th BSB Maintenance Tech

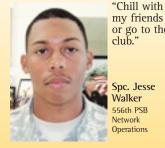

"Blog on the internet... vent-ing helps."

Rachel Reniva

"I like to visit the Kualoa Ranch."

Karla Saxton

my friends or go to the club.'

Walker Network

Soldiers and Iraqi Police work together to help village

CAPT. JANET HERRICK 5th Mobile Public Affairs Detachment

AL SEQUOR, Iraq - A convoy rolled into the Al Sequor village, sitting in the shadows of Contingency Operating Base Speicher, for a mission of goodwill re-

Soldiers from Headquarters Company and the Security Detachment of the 25th Special Troops Battalion, 25th Infantry Division conducted a joint mission with the local Iraqi Police taking donations to two elementary schools in the village providing supplies and gifts to more than 1,100 children.

The Soldiers and Iraqi police shared school supplies, soccer balls, goodie bags, and clothes from the staff sections and units of the 25th Infantry Division. They were able to share some of the comforts of home they received from family, friends, school teachers, and church members with the children of the closest village to where they work and live.

"My mother is a school teacher," said Capt. Justine Dufault, Battalion Intelligence Officer. "She and other teachers at her school donated the supplies we took to the school. I am glad to assist the people back home in providing supplies and facilitate the partnership between a U.S. school and an Iraqi school."

In addition to giving supplies and goodies to the children, key leaders of the unit met with the school principal and discussed their needs to improve the school.

Maj. John Henderson, battalion operations officer, 25th Special Troops Battalion, 25th Infantry Division meets school children in the Al Sequor village in Iraq while providing supplies and gifts to more than 1,100 children. The battalion has partnered with the Iraqi Police in providing security and assistance with the goal of making the village safer.

By helping the community, coalition forces terrorists from influencing and strength-

"By helping them to improve their community and schools we can more positively influence them which in turn keeps forces in this village is essential to the de-gain situational awareness of the village. ening their position in the area," said Maj. John Henderson, battalion operations officer. A positive attitude toward coalition fense of COB Speicher and the units that operate here.

Coalition forces are already seeing the benefits of their coordination efforts. They have received information about suspiand asking questions about the types of patrols in the area. When the 25th STB receives this information, they alert their Iraqi Police partners. The battalion continues to work with and support the Iraqi Police, and encourages them to be the first responders.

"We feel like we are learning a lot more going outside the wire and getting more of an understanding of the community. It helps a lot in pulling security," said Pfc. Keron Anthony Frazier, a security detachment driver.

The battalion has recently been working with the Iraqi Police in this village to eliminate the threat of improvised explosive devices in this area, but this is the first nonsecurity-related mission they have conducted. "This gives them more trust and confidence in us that we are not just going in and pulling out the bad guys. They know we are here to assist," said

The battalion plans to continue positive visits to the village to create allies with the teachers, Iraqi police, and the community. Not only will it make the security missions in their village easier, it will improve the security of the roads and entrance into COB Speicher where the battalion operates from.

"We care about what goes on in their village. Our key objective is to ensure the safety of COB Speicher by partnering with the Iraqi people that live nearest to the base," said Henderson.

News

hawaiiarmyweekly.com.

5 / Monday Advisory Council Meeting

The next Schofield Barracks Commissary/Post Exchange/Nehelani Advisory Council Meeting will be held Feb. 5, from 10:30-11:30 a.m. in the Main Post Conference Room.

This bimonthly meeting is a forum for representatives from those organizations and its patrons to share ideas and information. Call 655-0497 or 655-1252.

6 / Tuesday

AWG Recruiting — The Asymmetric Warfare Group (AWG) recruiting team will hold daily briefings in the Schofield Barracks Army Education Center, Room 223, Feb. 6-9, from 10-11 a.m.

vited to attend.

The AWG is a special missions unit that conducts continuous and simultaneous operations throughout the world to defeat specified asymmetric threats.

For more information on AWG, visit www.awg.army.mil.

Warrant Officers Wanted - A ittt@notes.k12.hi.us.

warrant officer recruiting team from Fort Knox will host a briefing for interested Soldiers on the qualifications and application procedures for becoming an Army Warrant Officer.

the Schofield Barracks Post Conference Room Feb. 6-8, at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. Call Sgt. 1st Class Shelton, 655-0839, visit www.usarec.army.mil/warrant or e-mail thomas.skaggs@usarec.army.mil.

Troops to Teachers — The federally-funded Troops to Teachers program supports military members choosing teaching as their

The program can provide hir-Soldiers, E-5 and above, and of- ing support and allows up to a ficers, captain and above, are in- $10,000 bonus for teaching in high-need schools.

Find out what it takes to become a teacher and how the TTT can benefit you. The program coordinator will be available from 11:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Schofield Barracks Education Center the first Tuesday of each month.

Call 586-4054 or e-mail hawai-

7 / Wednesday

Town Hall Meeting next Oahu South Town hall meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, Feb. 7 at 6:30 p.m. in Aliamanu Briefings will be held in Military Reservation Chapel. Call 438-6147.

> High-Tech Expo — The Technology and Industry Day will be held Feb. 7 at Fort Shafter's Hale Ikena, from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. The event will be held again Feb. 8, from 9 a.m.-1 p.m. at the Nehelani, Schofield Barracks.

> All personnel are invited to see the newest in technological advancements at this free event. For a complete listing of the exhibitors and a description of products, vis-

Complimentary refreshments and a lunch buffet will be served.

15 / Thursday

Black History Presentation The 8th Theater Sustainment Command and the 25th Infantry Division Equal Opportunity will host an event to recognize the significant contributions of Black Americans Feb. 15, from 10-11:30 a.m. at the Sgt. Smith Theater, Schofield Barracks. Call Sgt. 1st Class Michael Alicea at 655-0053.

Special Forces — The U.S. Army Special Forces is now seeking male officer volunteers from year group Officer packets will be accepted until Feb. 15, but early submission is strongly encouraged. For information, www.bragg.army.mil/specialforces.

20 / Tuesday

Recruiting Recruiters Army Recruiting Command will host a briefing for interested Soldiers, specialists through sergeants first class, on the benefits, challenges and qualifications of recruiting duty.

Presentations will be held in the Schofield Barracks Post

Conference Room, Feb. 20 at 1:30 er will be Command Chaplain p.m. and Feb. 21 at 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m.

Spouses are invited to attend this important presentation. Call unit ministry teams, command ser-Sgt. 1st Class Perez, (502) 626-

GSA Closes for Inventory -The GSA Customer Supply Center

at Schofield Barracks will be closed inventory. The center will reopen

In the interim, customers are reminded to make purchases at the Hickam Air Force Base GSA store. Call 655-0280.

22 / Thursday National Prayer Luncheon

- The annual National Prayer Luncheon will be held Feb. 22 at 11:30 a.m. in the Nehelani on Schofield Barracks.

The theme of the luncheon is "Caring for God's People in the Midst of Crisis." The guest speak-

Tickets will be available through geants major or at the event. The suggested ticket donations are $3 for Soldiers E-1 through E-5, and $5 for all others. Call 656-1384 or 655-9355.

(Col.) Sonny Moore, U.S. Forces

Command, Atlanta, Georgia.

28 / Wednesday

Pre-retirement Orientation The semiannual pre-retirement orientation will be held Feb. 28.

from 8 - 11:30 a.m. at the Schofield Barracks Post Conference Room. This orientation will cover the benefits and privileges of military retirement. Invited personnel include Soldiers and their spouses with at least 18 years of active service. Representatives of federal state and military staff offices will be available to answer questions. Call the Schofield Barracks Retirement Services Office at 655-

Sigma: Garrison green belts tackle projects

CONTINUED FROM A-1

tions have begun using the model to improve processes.

Roxanne Borthwick and Jae Sun Wilson, both plans specialists at DRM-PAID, completed their initial Green Belt training and started L6S projects in August.

Borthwick's project is the deployment demobilization process. She is working on the project's "define" phase to target a specific segment of the process to tighten the Wilson's project involves mapping the Transition Service Center Department of Defense Form (DD) 214 process. A DD-214 is an official form that records a service member's time in the military, awards and medals, and other pertinent information such as combat and overseas tours.

"I'm looking to standardize the process, reduce waste ... to eventually reduce cost and make the process faster," Wilson said. Currently, the process, which requires coordination with numerous other offices, takes two days on average to complete. Wilson's analysis may cut that time in half.

Upon completion of their projects, Borthwick and Wilson will become the garrison's first L6S certified"Green Belts." In addition, garrison is asking leaders for green belt candidate nominees. The Installation Management Command has given garrison seven green belt training slots in

Green Belts are midlevel specialists who lead garrison-level projects and are mentored or assist region level black belts, the next higher level of the L6S hierarchy, who doesn't outlast them. With Lean Six Sigma, have experience managing hundreds of projects. A black belt is remotely similar to completing a master's degree or thesis program. The Army certifies Green Belt candidates after they atin Southbridge, Mass., complete a garrison L6S project, which usually takes three to six months, and have the project certified by a Black Belt.

Matthew Steger, division chief, Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G8, Business Transformation and Manpower Division, is also working on his Green Belt certification. Steger's division is examining three projects: a Logistics Support Vessel (LSV) utilization study; a prompt payment project; and Central Issue Facility reimbursement collection project. Each project involves analyzing the process and defining methodology to eliminate waste and reduce cycle time based on measurable data. For example, in the LSV study, although commercial barges can carry more equipment, it might not be the most cost effective means for transporting Army equipment between islands, Steger

"It's not just solving the problem today, it's about instituting a whole new methodology," Steger said. "We have a lot of good problem solvers. The problem is the solution we're changing the method of what caused the problem in the first place.

Though garrison is beginning to implement L6S and the Department of the Army has more than a year's experience with the program, companies such as Toyota and ven cities like Fort Wayne, Ind., have used L6S to reduce cycle time and improve efficiency

For instance, in 2001, Fort Wayne's city government required 61 days on average to process building permits. Within four months of implementing the program, the average time to process a permit decreased to 30 days; four months later, a 12-day return was the norm. Two years later, most permits were routed in one day.

L6S 101

Like any new program, users must overcome the first hurdle of learning the jargon. Here are a few key terms, staff positions, and the correlating garrison personnel for the L6S program.

Champion – (Col. Howard Killian, commander, USAG-HI) An executive-level manager with responsibility for guiding L6S

Deployment Director - (Bryson Jhung, deputy commander, USAG-HI) Selects candidates for green belt and black belt training, assesses and selects projects for L6S ap-

Deputy Deployment Director - (Nancy Ragusa, chief of DRM-PAID) Assists director with administrative aspects of L6S and Black Belt – (Tom Powers) Responsible for leading or coaching project teams. Normally, these employees work full time on L6S and have completed numerous smaller projects and large projects. One Black Belt usually services one region.

Green Belt/Yellow Belt/Team Member -From greatest amount of exposure to least, anyone in the organization who receives some level of awareness education or L6S skill training.

DMAIC — (Define, Measure, Analyze,

Improve, Control) A problem-solving method that forces teams to: use data to identify true causes of problems, confirm the nature and extent of the problem, find solutions that evidence shows are linked to the causes, and establish procedures for maintaining solutions even after the proj-PowerSteering - The online project tracking system used by the Army.

"Overall," said Ragusa, "garrison employees should be aware of L6S, surface good ideas, best practices, and areas for improvement up through their chain of command so that trained L6S practioners can lead teams of subject matter experts to improve processes and commitment to the customer."

For information, more https://www.us.army.mil/suite/page/ 2881441.

(Editor's Note: Wikipedia.com and "What is Lean Six Sigma?" by Mike George, Dave Rowlands, and Bill Kastle, were sources for this article.)

Awards: Volunteers raise funds

CONTINUED FROM A-1

Eileen Grimes assisted with the design of the battalion mouse pads that were sold for the E Company fundraiser.

Jane Bristol received the Military Spouse Alii reward for the 8th Theater Sustainment Command. She served as the assistant battalion FRG leader.

Piper said, "Jane was a critical link between families, Soldiers and the deployed units of the 125th Finance Battalion."

Ryan closed the ceremony by offering appreciation to the volunteers.

"I must use this opportunity to say thank you from the bottom of my heart," he said. "It really does take the energy of the volunteer service to keep this Army going." Other volunteer awardees included: • Christina Carl - Combat Avi-

- ation Brigade
- Julie Eberhardt Volunteer Ambassador, Combat Aviation Brigade
- Eileen Grimes 3rd Brigade
- Angie Lemieux 45th Sustainment Brigade

Schofield thanks warriors for two decades of service

JEREMY S. BUDDEMEIER

Three warriors left Schofield's active duty ohana following a retirement ceremony held in their honor at the Nehelani Banquet and Conference Center, Jan. 25. Those honored included: Master Sgt.

Robert Berry, a facility manager, 29th Engineer Battalion; Sgt. 1st Class Willie Moore, safety noncommissioned officer, 29th Eng. Bn.; and Sgt. 1st Class Mohamed Hassan, dining facility manager, 2nd Battalion, 25th Aviation Regiment.

"All of us who've worn the uniform know it's a life of service," said Col. Stanley Tunstall, deputy commander, 8th Theater Sustainment Command.

Tunstall presented each of the three Soldiers with an award and a retirement certificate, and praised their families for bearing the hardships of military life.

"You can rejoice that you've left a legacy of accomplishments around the world," he said, "and are leaving the Army stronger and better than it was before." Following Tunstall's remarks, the Marine Corps Band, conducted by Gunnery Sgt. Robert Leal, played "Aloha Oe" and the "Army Song," and sneaked in the "Marine Corps Hymn."

"You gotta do it," Leal said.

Then, the more than 60 guests in attendance spilled onto the Nehelani's lanai to greet the retiring Soldiers and wish them well.

Though these three brothers-in-arms

Master Sgt. Robert Berry (front left) hugs a fellow Soldier as Sgt. 1st Class Mohamed Hassan (center) Sgt. 1st Class Willie Moore and his wife, Valerie greet a line of guests following the trio's retirement ceremony at Schofield Barracks Nehelani Banquet and Conference Center, Jan. 25.

will complete their Army careers on Oahu during the same month, each took a distinct path to arrive at this particular mo-

Moore

Sgt. 1st Class Willie Moore

After dropping out of high school at age 16 and living on the streets of Detroit for a while, Moore joined the Army in 1986. Looking back, he marveled at how much he didn't know.

"I had no idea what hors d'oeuvres were, I thought it was hors doh-u-vres,' Moore said pronouncing the French word as it appears in English. He then started carrying a notepad with him, writing down all the words he didn't know.

Moore felt he learned how to be a leader by caring for his younger brother and sister. Since then, leadership has been in his blood. He enjoys relating to people on a personal level.

"The best relationships are when people are endeared to one another for one reason or another," he said referring to the strong bonds he has made in the Army.

As a recruiter, Moore met his wife, Valerie, at the Military Entrance and Processing Station (MEPS) in Detroit. Now an Air Force technical sergeant information manager, Valerie was a travel officer when they met.

"I used to tell people, 'He catches [the recruits], I fry 'em," she said, referring to their distinct roles at MEPS.

The Moores intend to move back to either Atlanta or Detroit following Valerie's retirement next year.

"My hope is that some people remember me – that they can say 'He taught me this," Moore said after serving for 21 years. "If I did this for one or two people, I'll be happy."

Mohamed Hassan Born in Somalia,

Sgt. 1st Class

Mohamed joined the Army in 1987, though he refused to give his age when interviewed.

The biggest change

he noticed in his field in the past 20 years has been automation. He remembered having to hand-deliver orders for food to the Army warehouse; now the order process is electronic and prime vendors supply the food.

"Ît's less labor intensive and there's more variety, but it costs more money," Hassan said as he rolled his fingers together. "There is always cost associated with change."

Hassan felt the Army's camaraderie was most helpful during his service. "It's the biggest driving force in the military," he

After he retires, Hassan intends to visit family in Europe and move back to San Antonio because the weather is familiar: "I grew up in Arabia," he said.

Following the ceremony, a Soldier asked

Hassan what he was going to do.

"I don't drink anymore, I don't smoke I don't know what I'm gonna do," he said laughing.

Robert Berry Robert Berry began his Army career 26 years and two months ago loading ammunition as the number one man on a M101 split-trail howitzer. He mentioned technology has dramatically changed field artillery since he enlisted.

Berry said his favorite part of serving for the past quarter century was being a drill sergeant.

"You're trying to make civilians into somewhat of a Soldier. It's like having a baby - you watch them grow in front of you.

Though he never had any desire to be close to home while in the Army, he intends to move back to the Ft. Bragg N.C. area after "acting like a tourist" and visiting the neighbor islands with Berry felt he will be remembered by his Soldiers as "hard but fair," and has an interest in becoming a Reserve Officer Training Corp instructor.

"It might be difficult to find out [what he wants to do], but I know there's something out there for me," Berry said.

Master Sgt.

Safety: Amusing challenges test skills of participants

CONTINUED FROM A-1

Maxwell asked Brandenburg.

"I have a scar from a Honda 350," replied Brandenburg, donning a helmet and saddling up on Maxwell's BMW

Maxwell gave Brandenburg an example of how to be a safe passenger, demon-strating how the dynamics of a motorcycle completely change with the additional weight of another rider. "I was impressed that he did not only the driving portion, [but] did the DUI portion, and ... also the motorcycle as a second rider," said Houseberg. "He led by example today demonstrating for the Soldiers. Judging from the line and crowd of observers, the smaller drunk driving awareness course using golf carts and goggles designed to simulate vision while impaired by alcohol was the most popu- more enjoyable ride. lar of the three challenges.

"It was great!" said Sgt. Tracy E. Conner, 84th Engineer Battalion, after taking her turn in a golf cart. "It was real freaky with the glasses on ... It's a good way to get the message across the tarmac near Hangar 1020, was popu-

Staff Sgt. Frog Davis, noncommissioned officer in charge and instructor for motorcycle safety at Wheeler Army Air Field awaits the next rider wanting to learn how to be a better motorcycle passenger. Knowing how to work with the operator means a safer and that you shouldn't drink and drive."

marked by a combination of painted lines lar to both riders and observers. The Hon-The motorcycle safety skills course, olulu Police Department, supporting the event with ten motorcycle officers and and miniature green-and-red cones on their immaculate BMW police bikes, demonstrated their superb riding abilities tight cornering by two officers maneuvering within an area designed for one bike at a time.

Classes were available for entry-level motorcycles with zero experience, an intermediate course for those who need to brush up on their skills, and an experienced rider refresher course for riders who may not have ridden for some time.

For those who could demonstrate their riding ability, a check-out ride is all that's required. All riders stationed at Schofield and Wheeler must undergo the local check Bikers returning from deployment are mandated to take a check ride as part of their reintegration plan to assure their safe riding skills. The course uses Armyowned Buell Blasts, motorcycles with special oversized case guards, to protect both the rider and the bike from harm when bikers-in-training lay them down, saving legs from road rash and thousands of dollars in damage repairs.

The three fire trucks and 11 firefighters from the Federal Fire Department provided the most graphic demonstration of the morning using extrication equipment to wrecked auto. Firefighters used assorted hydraulic, gas and human-powered tools to pry, cut and saw open the car.

Once we secure his neck and spine, we try to get access to the vehicle," said Capt. Blaze Duarte, FFD Station 14, Wheeler Army Air Field. "We want to get the patient out of the vehicle as quickly as we could without further injury."

Vendors at Safety Day passed out pamphlets and trinkets to remind motorists of other important issues, like the condition of tires, which Maxwell said is one of the most overlooked and vital pieces of equipment on a vehicle. Another booth was dedicated to child safety seats, including information about the latest standards. changes in Hawaii law, and manufactur-

Volunteers from the 2nd Battalion, 25th Aviation Brigade family readiness group flipped burgers, grilled dogs and provided other snacks for participants.

"We do this twice a year," said Houseberg. "We're hoping that everyone gets something out of this and walks away with a better feeling about how they can only maintained by the dedication and commitment of volunteers.

Donors: Soldiers and civilians save lives, one pint at a time

CONTINUED FROM A-1

The Armed Forces Blood Program (AFBP) now ships almost 1,000 units per week just to Iraq, according to Guy Harrigan, recruiter, Blood Donor Center.

"The average combat service support hospital uses about 100 units per day,' Harrigan explained. "Because of our ability to get blood downrange, service members are three times more likely to survive this [Iraq] war than in any other war we've engaged."

Tripler recognized top contributors, individuals and units, during its 3rd annual Blood Donor Recognition Ceremony, a celebration of both giving and January's National Volunteer Blood Donor Month, during a formal observance at the Hale Koa Hotel, Jan. 26.

The commanding general of the Pacif-

Command, Maj. Gen. Carla G. Hawley-Bowland, presented awards to contributors in four categories: Aphresis (a one-hour process that allows collection of platelets from the blood), Whole Blood,

Craighead

Community Organizations, and Units. The Army's 5-14th Cavalry Regiment and its 2nd Stryker Brigade Combat Team, both units based at Schofield Barracks, each received one of the Unit Awards.

Spc. Matthew Pivovar was honored as Tripler's "Phlebotomist of the Year" (best medic who draws blood) and Bernice Oshiata as an extraordinary Red Cross vol-

"The collection and storage of blood is our mission at Tripler ... and we are unable

Army Individual Awardees

Sgt. Warren Frazier, 7 donations Sgt. Christopher Logan, 7 Rosemarie Parker, 7 Sherry Pico, 7 Spc. Christopher Craighead, 5 Spc. Matthew Pivovar, 5 Bernice Oshita, extraordinary vol-to complete our mission without the use of your spleens, livers and bone marrows that produce those products," said Hawley-Bowland when expressing heartfelt appreciation for all volunteers.

Blood drives are regularly scheduled on all Oahu's military installations. They are "the backbone" of the local AFBP, said McDonald, who added he hopes still more volunteers will give in 2007, to ensure continued mission success.

Other Army Individual Awardees

(Not available/deployed) Spc. James Cain, 9 donations Spc. Andrew Harris, 9 Maj. Mark Smith, 6 1st Lt. Bryan P. Nowak, 5

Community & Unit Awardees All-Enlisted Spouses Club

Post Exchange, Schofield Barracks Tropics, Schofield Barracks Hale Koa Hotel 5-14th Cavalry Regiment 2nd Stryker Brigade Combat Team C Company, Tripler Army Medical Center

University of Hawaii Army ROTC

Harrigan stressed that anyone wanting to donate blood or organize a collection at his or her workplace can call 433-6699 or visit www.militarylifeforce.com.

www.25id.army.mil/haw.asp

"When work is finished."

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2, 2007

Bash at A Keiki get pointers from local pros Story and Photos by JEREMY S. BUDDEMEIER This year the Army's Child and Youth Services received a $1,000 grant from Assistant Editor the National Football League to bolster ALIAMANU MILITARY RESERVATION - On CYS' sports program. The money will be Coach Lon Lebato simulates

Saturday morning, children from all over the island woke up and played football with some of the biggest names in professional and col-

However, this weekend their interaction wasn't through a video game.

As part of the 2nd annual Army Hawaii Football Bash Clinic, more than 400 kids funneled into the fields at Aliamanu Military Reservation to improve their skills and learn techniques from some of the island's most renowned football players.

Current and former NFL players like Vince Manuwai (Jacksonville Jaguars) Ma'a Tanuvasa (Denver Broncos), Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala (Pittsburgh Steelers and Jacksonville Jaguars), Joe Carreia (San Francisco 49ers), University of Hawaii receivers Davone Bess and Ryan Grice-Mullen, and Cal Lee, one of the nation's most successful high school coaches, led kids through various drills and provided an array of positive feedback.

"[The clinic] just keeps getting bigger and better each year," said Brendyn Agbayani, the program lead for Army Hawaii's youth sports and fitness. Last year, the clinic hosted 100 adolescents. This year, that number quadru-

And although the program received a larger NFL grant last year, Agbayani and company made up the difference by attracting more sponsors, which numbered 30 this year compared with nine the previous year. Sponsors contributed everything from jerseys to goodie bags; Army Hawaii Family Housing alone contributed $4,000 Agbayani said.

Agbayani pointed to a greater number of sponsors and better advertising as reasons for the clinic's surge in popularity.

The clinic was split into morning and afternoon sessions. In the morning, children ages 8-12 rotated every 20 minutes through eight position stations such as running back, quarterback and receiver. In the afternoon, players coached teenagers on specialized skills in their positions, culminating in a full-fledged flag football scrimmage.

As kids raced around cones and leapt for passes under the cloudless sky, watchful parents vied for scant bits of shade under tents. umbrellas and the occasional tree.

such a positive experience for the kids, said Christine Carr, an administrative systems technician and park ranger at the USS Arizona Memorial. Carr is also the family readiness group leader for her hus-

San Francisco 49ers outside linebacker Joe Correia (center with hat) and Lee Seleni, a former linebacker for Hawaii's arena football "Hammerheads," (right) motivate children ages 8-12 in a huddle during the 2nd annual Army Hawaii Football Bash clinic, Saturday. More than 400 children participated in the clinic.

used to fund current youth sports programs, send sports staff to training on the mainland, in addition to last weekend's Football Bash.

According to the NFL website, $15 million in grants have been awarded since 1998.

Currently, the program encourages involvement through "Smart Start," which seeks to teach basic skills such as throwing, kicking and catching to children ages 4-7 at youth centers and child development centers on Fort Shafter, Schofield Barracks, Helemano and Aliamanu military reservations.

The program's philosophy seeks to maximize fun, limit standing around and to ensure everyone plays.

Learn more at: www.nflyouthfootball.com band Joshua's unit, the 2nd Battalion 27th Infantry Regiment. Her son, Corey Allen, 12, attended the clinic for his second year.

Carr was impressed the players and coaches encouraged not only football fundamentals but life fundamentals, like advising kids to stay out of trouble and to do well in school.

"They really pumped my son up," "He lives, breathes and eats football."

Another parent, Cynthia Piatt brought her children, Jessica, 11, and Joshua, 9, to the clinic. Jessica was one of eight girls who attended the morning session. Joshua brought a Pittsburgh Steelers football to have it signed by Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala,

Jonas Vaoyasa, 10, throws a pass to a teammate as coach Lon Lebato (left) supervises at the quarterback station during the 2nd annual Army Hawaii Football Bash clinic, Saturday

Cynthia Piatt praised the clinic's organization and said it gave the kids something for which to aspire.

'Josh wants to play for the Steelers," she said, but conceded that her husband being from Somerset, Penn. might have something to do with her son's choice of teams.

Wendy Oliva, whose husband Alex is a fueler with 2nd Squadron, 6th Cavalry Regiment, echoed similar sentiments about her son, Nick,

"His biggest goal in life is to be an NFL defensive lineman," she said.

Professional aspirations aside, the main focus for the clinic seemed to be fun; although it was unclear which group enjoyed the clinic more, the players or the kids.

> "Hey Ry, his routes look better than yours," Davone Bess shouted to fellow UH receiver Ryan Grice-Mullen about one child's performance.

> > kids up by having everyone shout "Quarterbacks" or "Receivers" in Chapman at the quarterback station during the 2nd annual Army Hawaii Football Bash clinic, Saturday.

snapping the ball to Steven a group huddle before proceeding to the next

"It's about giving back to the community," said Grice-Mullen. "Like Vince Manuwai ... giving us advice. It's the same thing we're trying to do with the kids – that leadership role. We can sit back and talk with [Manuwai] and that gets us motivated."

Bess built on Grice-Mullen's comments: "Teachin' them the fundamentals," he said, gives us a chance to re-evaluate our skills. You never can get enough fundamentals.

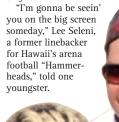

"It feels so good," said Ma'a Tanuvasa, who played on two Denver Broncos Super Bowl championship teams with John Elway in 1998 and 1999. "Especially with the younger kids, to see them smiling and having fun.'

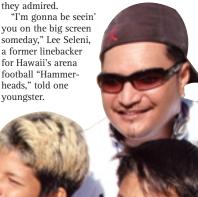

Tanuvasa had the opportunity to bring one of the biggest smiles of the day to Austen Kiehn's face. Kiehn, whose muscular distrophy confines him to a wheelchair, chose to meet Tanuvasa as part of the Make-A-Wish Founda-

"It was my honor, my privilege ... to be one his favorite players from his favorite team,' Tanuvasa said.

Following each session, various prizes were given away. When master of ceremonies Bill Baker announced the jerseys and autographed footballs would be given away, a ripple of low 'ooohhhs" coursed through the audience.

Though not every participant left with an NFL jersey, all received attention and positive feedback from football players

3 / Saturday

Keiki Valentine Craft Party - Kids of all ages are invited to enjoy fun Valentine craft projects and games at the Schofield Barracks Tropics, Feb. 3, 1–3 p.m. Cost is $4 per child. Call 655-0112.

9 / Friday

Mongolian Barbecue — Enjoy a popular favorite, Mongolian barbecue, Feb. 9, from 5-8 p.m. at the Nehelani on Schofield Barracks.

Select from a large variety of meats and vegetables and have them grilled to your liking. Seating will be available in the KoleKole Bar & Grill.

Cost is 65 cents per ounce, and reservations are recommended. Call 655-4466.

12 / Monday

Hoomaluhia Botanical Garden Walking Trip — Guests are invited to explore Hoomaluhia Botanical Garden, Feb.12, from 10 a.m.-12:30 p.m. Come enjoy the amazing network of trails, 400 acres of endangered and rare plants and a 32-acre lake. Blue Star Card Holders can register for transportation by calling 655-0112.

13 / Tuesday

Gung Hei Fat Choy – Celebrate the Chinese New Year and usher in the year of the pig by watching a puppet show and making dragon crafts. Events will be held Feb. 13 at the Fort Shafter Library (438-9521); Feb. 14 at the Sgt. Yano Library on Schofield Barracks (655-8002); and Feb. 15 at the Aliamanu Military Reservation (AMR) Library (833-4851). All performances will start at 3 p.m. and the program is open to children of all ages.

14 / Wednesday

Oogles-N-Googles — The Sgt. Yano Library and Oogles-N-Googles present Heart of America, Feb. 14, at 10 a.m. This program provides children ages 3-5 an exciting adventure of jumping, dancing, singing, laughing and learning. Call 655-8002.

Valentine's Day Special — Celebrate Valentine's Day with a special dinner at the Schofield Barracks Nehelani. Look for more details to come. Call 655-4466.

Send calendar announcements to community@hawaiiarmyweekly.com.

2 / Today

and East Range is scheduled for an electrical outage Feb. 2, from midnight until approximately 4 a.m. for the Hawaiian Electric Company to perform repairs and maintenance on the substation. Call 656-2682,

3 / Saturday

O` Na Wahine will be conducting its annual basket auction. This year's Mardi Gras-themed basket auction will take place at the Leilehua Golf Course, Feb. 3, from 7-10

This fundraising event will be held to support the community with scholarships to college students and welfare grants to local

Prizes to be given away include a three-day stay at the Hale Koa in Waikiki plus a

Island and accommodations at Kilauea Mil-

Cost is $10 per ticket or $12 at the event.

To purchase tickets or donate a basket, call

B.E.A.C.H Cleanup — The Beach Envi-

Karen Barker at 206-8041.

ronmental Awareness Campaign

Hawaii (B.E.A.C.H.) is hosting a beach cleanup Feb. 3, from 3-5 p.m. Individuals and groups are invited to help clear marine debris at Makapu'u Beach across the museum on Ford Island.

after the clean up.

from Sea Life Park. Bags, gloves, and water will be provided to all participants. A prize drawing will be held

To register, call 554-2902 or 393-2168.

PAM Needs You — The Pacific Aviation

Museum-Pearl Harbor will host a volunteer and docent meeting Feb. 3 at 4 p.m. at

Be a part of the team that brings Hawaii's

To register, call 441-1012 or 690-0169

New Year Celebration — Celebrate the aviation history, patriotism and valor to life in the original World War II hangars.

or visit kt@pacificaviationmuseum.org.

Bourbon Street Basket Bash — The Hui

extension 1122.

organizations.

itary Camp.

Lights Out — Wheeler Army Air Field

Heavy winds gusting up to 70 mph caused a branch from an Albizia tree near Schofield Barracks' Headquarters Building to fall, Monday. The branch received a cushioned landing care of one employee's Jeep. However, the uninvited "passenger" still won't qualify the employee for the HOV lane

Ongoing

Newcomers' Hoike - New to Hawaii? Come join the fun at the Army Community Service (ACS) weekly orientation workshop. Learn about community resources and Hawaiian culture.

Workshops are held every Tuesday, from 8:15 a.m.-2:30 p.m. at the Schofield ACS. Free child care will be provided for children enrolled in Child and Youth Services. Call 655-5314 to register for child care and 655-4227 to register for the workshop.

Video Messenger — Deploying Soldiers are invited to participate in the "Read to the Kids" pre-deployment program at Sgt. Yano Library on Schofield Barracks. DVD or VHS recordings will be made of Soldiers reading their child's favorite stories.

This video messenger can also be used to record birthday, anniversary and holiday messages. Call 655-8002.

SKIES Unlimited - Music Lady School of Music is offering classes in piano, vocal training, flute, recorder and violin for budding musicians through Schools of Knowledge, Inspiration, Exploration & Skills (SKIES) Unlimited.

Classes are available at the Schofield Barracks and AMR youth centers. Private lessons are $95 per month and group lessons are $55 per month. Call 655-

Arts and Crafts Center - Need a gift fast? Stop by the Arts and Crafts Center and choose from a variety of island crafts, including mirrors, baskets, woodcrafts and more. Call 655-6330 at Schofield Barracks or 438-1315 at Fort Shafter.

DoD Employees — Don't have the time to take your auto in for an oil change, tire rotation or balancing? The staff at the Auto Craft Shop can complete these jobs and many other services during regular workdays. Call 655-2271.

Sunday Brunch — Experience a delightful meal featuring popular brunch menu favorites at the Kolekole Bar & Grill, Schofield Barracks, from 10 a.m.-2 p.m., or at Fort Shafter's Hale Ikena from 10 a.m.-1

Cost varies by location and children's pricing is available. Call Hale Ikena at 438-1947 or the Nehelani at 655-4466.

Homeschool Support Group - Homeschooled students are invited to join biweekly group meetings for special activities, including arts and crafts, field trips, science experiments, computer classes and Call 655-8326 for a copy of the current calendar or for registration information.

Nueva en la Biblioteca — The Sgt. Yano Library on Schofield Barracks now has a collection of books and videocassettes in Spanish. Books are available for children of all ages along with a wide selection of adult fiction. Call 655-

Mystery Shopper Program -Volunteers are needed for the Mystery Shopper Program. Volunteers will shop anonymously at various MWR facilities or activities and provide feedback or identify employees who provide legendary service.

Approximately three hours may be required for each assignment, and shoppers will be provided with any required spending money. Call 656-0078.

MWR Happenings — To find out more information about MWR activities, programs and facilities, pick-up a copy of the 'Discovery" magazine available at the Schofield Barracks commissary, Fort Shafter post exchange, Aliamanu shoppette, Tripler mauka entrance, or any MWR facility.

Visit the MWR Web site at www.mwrarmy hawaii.com.

Job Search — Visit, browse and apply for federal jobs that are available in Hawaii at www.nafjobs.com activities will include a special performance by popular local comedian Frank De Lima, a Chinese lion dance by Waipahu High School students, a blessing at the Inari Shrine, book readings, plantation games and crafts. Guests may enjoy samples of spectacular plantation foods, including gau, tsukemono, kim chee, miso pork and malassadas.

Tickets are $4 for military, and free for children age 12 and under. General admission is $7. Call 677-0110 or visit www.hawaiiplantationvillage.org.

3rd Annual Bob Fest - Yea Mon...Hawaiian Waters Adventure Park in Kapolei will host the ultimate tribute to Bob Marley, Feb. 3 from 7 p.m.-3 a.m.

The featured act is Lauryn Hill, along with Jamaica's top dancehall star Capleton, local boys Pepper, and many more.

The main stage will be set in the hurricane wave pool, which will be drained for a unique amphitheater experience. Tickets can be purchased for $25 by visiting www.PreSaleTicketsOnline.com or at the event for $30. The concert will be open to customers age 18 and older.

7 / Wednesday

High-Flying Rock — An aerial explosion atre, Feb. 7-11.

The New York Times called Antigravity "industrial strength entertainment" where art is introduced to science, athletics meets dance, and rock meets theater. This show was performed at the 2002 Winter Olympics, the Grammy Awards and with P. Diddy at the MTV Video Music Awards. On opening night, Feb. 7, active duty military patrons will get into the show free. Reserved tickets for Feb. 7 and 8 will be priced $25-$45. Tickets for the Feb. 9-11 show will be priced $35-$55. To purchase tickets, call the box office at 528-0506, or visit www.hawaiitheatre.com. Also, www.anti-gravity.com for information on the performance.

14 / Wednesday James and the Giant Peach

The Hawaii Theatre Center and Paliku Theatre at Windward Community College will present the premiere musical adaptation of "James and the Giant Peach" Feb. 14, Chinese New Year and Portuguese Malassada

This lively incarnation of song, dance and shadow puppets is based on the Roald Dahl story of a mistreated orphan whose life changes the day a giant peach appears in his garden. Tickets are available at the Hawaii Theatre Box Office, 1130 Bethel Street, for $12 for adults, and $9 for students, seniors and military. Tickets may be purchased electronically by calling 528-0506 or visiting www.hawaiitheatre.com.

Sea-duction Dinner — The Waikiki Aquarium invites loving couples to enjoy a unique and romantic tryst at its annual "Sea-duction Valentine's Day Dinner," Feb. 14.

The private, candlelit dinner for two will feature champagne, a three-course dinner with wine, a commemorative photo, a single rose for all the ladies and valet parking.

Doors will open at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will be served at 7 p.m. The cost will be $300 per couple, with all proceeds benefiting the Waikiki Aquarium's future Northwestern Hawaiian Islands exhibit.

Call 923-9741, extension 3.

15 / Thursday

Vein Drain — The 2nd Brigade will host prize package that includes airfare to the Big of athletic theater and American pop culture the monthly Schofield Barracks unit blood - Antigravity - leaps into the Hawaii The- drive Feb. 15 in the Kaala Recreation Center, Room 101.

The Tripler Blood Donor Center conducts a blood drive the third Thursday of each month, with different units hosting, and the last Tuesday of each month at Tropics.

Upcoming drive dates are Feb. 27, March 15 and March 27. For dates and locations of additional blood drives, or to schedule a donation at Tripler, visit www.militarylifeforce.com or call 433-6699.

17 / Saturday

Pig Business at Pearlridge — Help welcome in the Chinese New Year in Pearlridge Mall. The year of the pig will be ushered in with an ancient Chinese lion dance Feb. 17, starting at 10:30 a.m. in the uptown center court.

18 / Sunday

March of the Lions - The Aloha Stadium Swap Meet will welcome the Chinese New Year with a performance by the Asia Arts Organization.

Three lions will welcome the year of the pig Feb. 18. The opening ceremony will begin at 9 a.m. at the main entrance in parking section 4-E. Visit www.alohastadiumswapmeet.net or call 486-6704.

Ongoing

Summer Art Festival – Visual artists are invited to apply for the tenth Annual Haleiwa Arts Festival Summer Event, held July 21-22 in the Haleiwa Beach Park. Artists will be selected by jury to exhibit and sell their artwork and demonstrate their artistic styles and techniques during this two-day fine arts and crafts festival. Original and limited edition works of fine art in all media will be considered.

The deadline to submit an application is Mar. 24. Guidelines, applications and additional information are available at: www.HaleiwaArtsFestival.org.

Keiki Tuesday - Kid-friendly entertainers including Chris da Clown, Aloha Clowns, Paradise Jugglers and Families for R.E.A.L. will delight the whole family at free celebrations every Tuesday from 10:30 a.m. to noon in the Pearlridge Mall uptown center court. Bring the children for crafts, balloons, storytelling, face-painting, silly songs and more! Uptown Center Court. School-age children are invited to join the fun from 6-8 p.m. Lego Town will be the order of business Feb. 6, and the Balloon Monsoon will be held Feb. 13.

Military Spouses Scholarship — The National Military Family Association (NMFA) in partnership with the Military Channel invites military spouses to apply for the Joanne Holbrook Patton Military Spouse Scholarship Program.

The scholarships to military spouses of any branch who want to train for professional certifications or to attend post-secondary or graduate school and range from $500 to $1,000 and may be used for tuition, fees, room board. Applications be accepted through March 15. Visit www.nmfa.org/scholarship.

MDA Volunteers Needed — The Muscular Dystrophy Association (MDA) has begun its search for summer camp volunteers. Volunteer counselors are needed to help young people with neuromuscular diseases enjoy a fun-filled MDA summer camp June 8-15 at YMCA Camp H.R. Erdman on the North Shore. Volunteer counselors must be at least age 16 and able to lift and care for a young person between age 6 and 21.

For an application, call the Honolulu MDA office at 593-4454 or 800- 572-1717.

worship Services

Aliamanu (AMR) Chapel, 836-4599

Catholic
Sunday, 8:30 a.m. — Mass
Sunday, 9:45 a.m. — Religious Education (Sept.-May only)
Gospel
Sunday, 11 a.m. — Sunday
School (Sept.-June only)
Sunday, 12:30 p.m. —
Worship Service
Protestant
Sundays, 9:45 a.m. —
Worship Service
Sunday, 11 a.m. — Sunday
School (Sept. – June only)

Fort DeRussy Chapel, 836-4599

Catholic
 Saturday, 5 p.m.-Mass in Chapel (May-Aug.)
 Saturday, 6 p.m.-Mass on Beach
 Protestant
 Sunday, 9 a.m. - Worship Service

Fort Shafter Chapel, 836-4599

• Contemporary Protestant Sunday, 9 a.m.-"The Wave" Worship

Helemano (HMR) Chapel

• Contemporary Protestant Sunday, 10 a.m. – Worship Service & Children's Church

Main Post Chapel, 655-9307

* (Note: During renovation, services normally held in the sanctuary will take place at the Wheeler Change) will take place at the Wi Chapel.)

• Catholic
Sunday, 9 a.m.-CCD & RCIA
Collective Protestant
Sunday, 10:30 a.m. Sunday School
• Gospel
Sunday, 10:30 a.m. Sunday School

MPC Annex, Building 791

• Chalice Circle Tuesday, 7 p.m.

Islamic Prayers and Study
Friday, 1 p.m.

Buddhist

4th Sunday, 1 p.m.

Soldiers Chapel

• Catholic Friday–Saturday, 12p.m. – Adoration (24 hours) • Protestant Sunday, 9:30 a.m. – Worship Service

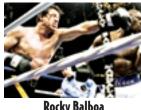

Tripler AMC Chapel, 433-5727

Catholic Sunday, 11 a.m.–Mass Monday – Friday, 12 p.m.–Mass Saturday, 5 p.m.–Mass
 Protestant Sunday, 9 a.m. –
Worship Service

Wheeler Chapel

• Catholic Saturday, 5 p.m.–Mass Sunday, 10:30 a.m.–Mass • Collective Protestant Sunday, 9 a.m. – Worship Service • Gospel Sunday, Noon – Worship Service

This Week at the

Rocky Balboa

(PG) Friday, 7 p.m. Wednesday, 7 p.m.

(R) Saturday, 7 p.m. Thursday, 7 p.m.

(R)

Sunday, 7 p.m.

The theater is closed Monday & Tuesday SEE COMMUNITY CALENDAR, B-3

Worship schedules altered

The Schofield Barracks Main Post Chapel is currently undergoing renovation and will conduct services on an alternate schedule for approximately six months.

All services currently held in the Main Post Chapel, including memorial ceremonies, will be moved to the Wheeler Army Air Field Chapel at the regularly scheduled times.

Child care will continue at the Peterson Child Development Center, and hours will be extended to allow for travel time.

The Wheeler Army Air Field Chapel schedule will change as follows:

- Saturday 4:30 p.m. - Confession 5 p.m. - Mass
- Sunday 9 a.m. - Protestant service 10:30 a.m. - Mass
- Noon Gospel service Monday / Wednesday

11:30 a.m. - Mass There will be no change to the existing religious education schedule or programs. All weekday events usually held in the Main Post Chapel sanctuary may be relocated to Building 790, Room D-9 or Building 791, Room

Call Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Joel Lytle at 655-6643 or 655-9307. (Editor's Note: The updated religious programming schedule can be found on B-2.)

Proper child car seat installation saves lives

TRIPLER ARMY MEDICAL CENTER PUBLIC AFFAIRS

News Release

By failing to properly install a safety seat, family members might be endangering their children.

The worst consequences of an improperly installed seat include death, permanent brain injury and permanent spinal cord damage. If the seat is installed correctly, it will maximize the child's chances of minimal injuries if the vehicle were to be in a collision," said Carol Moreno, Tripler Pediatric Clinical Nurse Specialist.

According to Moreno, at Hawaii community car seat inspection events, it is found that more than 90 percent of baby car seats are installed incorrectly.

If family members are uncertain of the correct installation techniques, they can have their car seat inspected at designated inspection stations. The Safety Office at Kaneohe Marine Corps Base and Tripler Army Medical Center are the only two military inspection stations on Oahu. my informational tours that Tripler offered this service," said new mother Cynthia Hall. "We didn't know there were people car seats.' On many military installations, the military police are designated as inspection stations, but not in Hawaii.

who are actually trained to install baby

"I was surprised to find out during one of Expecting mother, Cynthia Hall (left), listens as Carol Moreno, pediatric clinical nurse specialist, Tripler Army Medical Center, explains baby car seat installation instructions as husband, Kendrick Hall, looks on.

> Tripler is only the second Army medical treatment facility in the U.S. that is recognized as an inspection station.

> "With the leveling of the seat and proper tightening of the straps, it would have been frustrating to properly install Moreno was very knowledgeable and patient in assisting us during the installation. We are grateful for her expertise." Locally, families can call 433-9226 to the seat on our own," Hall said. "Carol checked. Parents are also encouraged to call Carol Moreno directly with any questions at 433-6434.

More information is available at www.seatcheck.org or by calling 1-866arrange an appointment to get their seat SEATCHECK (732-8242).

Community Calendar

Visit www.mda.org/clinics/camp or www.groups.yahoo.com/group/ mdahawaii.

Wives of the Warriors — The Military Council of Catholic Women (MCCW) at Aliamanu Military Reservation (AMR) chapel meets each Thursday at $9:1\hat{5}$ a.m. in the chapel for its fall Bible study, "Wives of the Warriors." The focus of this Bible study is learning to live confidently dren at least 9 months of age. Nursing babies are welcome: however, RSVP for child care. Call 836-4599 or e-mail

On-site child care will be provided for STACC-registered chilin Christ as a military spouse.

Torch Lighting and Hula Show

MCCWHawaii@yahoo.com.

- Enjoy free nightly performances (weather permitting), 6:30-7:30 p.m. at the Kuhio Beach Hula Mound, near the Duke Kahanamoku statue in Waikiki.

This show features a torchlighting and conch shell ceremony, authentic local music and dancing by some of the island's finest halau (troupes). Call 843-8002.

Protestant Women of the Chapel - A place to find laughter, a place to find hope, a place to find friends, a place to find your faith. PWOC a place for you. Join us for our Spring Session every Tuesday through May 15th. We meet at the Main Post Chapel from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. Free on-site child care is available by reservation. Call 206-8504.

Classical Singers — Hawaii Vocal Arts Ensemble, Hawaii's premiere chamber chorus, is looking for experienced voices to join them for their 15th anniversary season. Classical singers with strong music skills; clear, flexible voices; and the commitment to making beautiful choral music at the highest professional level are Auditions will be held by appointment only. Call 261-6495 or e-mail maestrotim@aol.com.

Community Calendar Briefs

Do you have announcements of upcoming events, sports or activities that you would like to post in the Hawaii Army Weekly? If so, email your information to community@hawaiiarmyweekly.com at least two weeks in advance of your event or activity.

SAT/ACT Prep — Military families can receive the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) /American College Testing (ACT) Power Prep DVD/CD-Rom training programs to prepare for taking the actual exams. This program is available in either a single DVD or two CD-ROM set that includes more than 11 hours of training video and 25-40 hours of student participa-

The program is valued at $200, which will be subsidized 100 percent by the Victory Sports Group.

Military families pay only the $9.95 shipping and handling charge. Customers may visit www.militaryhomefront.dod.mil to confirm military status, then go to the order page to request programs. Call 655-9818.

3 / Saturday

Ladies Golf Clinic - Ladies, sharpen those golfing skills at a free golf clinic. The clinic will be held Feb. 3 at the Leilehua Golf Course.

This clinic will last for one hour and will begin promptly at 2:20 p.m. All required equipment will be provided and advance reservations are recommended. Call 655-4653.

4/Sunday

Super Bowl Party Come enjoy a Super Bowl party at the Schofield BarracksTropics, Feb. 4. Enjoy the game on the big screen television, enjoy great food from the "all-you-can-eat-buffet" and enter to win Pro Bowl Tickets. Call 655-0002.

Super Brunch Sunday -Experience a delightful meal featuring popular brunch menu favorites at the Schofield Barracks Kolekole Bar & Grill. Then stay to enjoy pupus, watch the Super Bowl, and have a chance to win prizes. The brunch begins at 10 a.m. For reservations, call 655-4466.

Bowling Tournament — A "5 Game, No Tap" tournament will be held at the Schofield Bowling Center, Feb. 4. Check-in will be at 1 p.m., and the cost is $20 per bowler. Call 655-0573.

6 / Tuesday Pro Bowl Players at AMR -

Meet and greet the cheerleaders and mascots of the National Football League, as well as a special guest. Join the fun Feb. 6, from 4-6 p.m. at the Aliamanu Military Reservation (AMR) gymnasium and have a chance to win great prizes!

Youth Wrestling Team — Feb. 6 is the last day to register for the USA Wrestling Team. Youth born between 1987-2001 are eligible to participate.

Cost is $20 per person, plus a $30 USA Wrestling Team fee. Registration will be held at the Bennett Youth Center on Schofield Barracks. Call 655-6465

There's the rub

Melissa Deadman, an American Institute of Massage Therapy student, shows a Mental Health Workshop attendee that there is no substitute for the relaxation of the human touch.

The Combat Aviation Brigade hosted the mini-workshop Monday at the Schofield Barracks Nehelani.

Event speakers covered topics which included secondary post traumatic stress disorder, compassionate fatigue, visual imagery and nurturing resiliency.

8 / Thursday Pro Bowl Players at Tropics

Meet and greet the cheerleaders and mascots of the NFL, as well as a special guest. Join the fun Feb. 8, from 4-6 p.m. at Schofield Barracks Tropics and have a chance tow in great prizes. Call 655-5697/0968.

Ungoing

BMX Track — The BMX track on Wheeler Army Air Field is now open on Thursdays from 5-7 p.m. and Saturdays from 4-7 p.m. Call 655-0883 or visit www.mwrarmyhawaii.com/cys/bm x_track.htm.

Brazilian Capoeira — Develop the mind, body and spirit to include physical fitness, self-defense and self-discipline through Brazilian Capoeira. Classes are held Tuesdays from 5:30-7 p.m. at the Fort Shafter Physical Fitness Center.

Call Mestre Kinha at 247-7890.

Leilehua Golf Course Driving Range - The golf driving range at the Leilehua Golf Course is open weekdays until 9:30 p.m. Call 655-

Water Aerobics — Come for a new and exciting workout at Richardson Pool. Classes will be held Monday, Wednesday, and Friday from 11:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and Tuesday and Thursday from 5 p.m.-6 p.m. A $2 fee is charged per class or a punch card is available for $15. Water aerobics provide a safe and effective exercise alternative that improves fitness levels with little stress on the joints. Call 655-

What's Up Gymnastics -

Schools of Knowledge, Inspiration Exploration and Skills (SKIES) Unlimited is partnering with What's Up Gymnastics to offer a military discount program for all upcoming What's Up Gymnastics provides several classes to choose from, including recreational and competitive classes, and offers the only indoor climbing wall on Oahu.

Classes are provided for all ages, even as early as age one. Discount cards can be picked up at the Child and Youth Services registration offices. Call 655-9818.

Fleet Feet — Faerber's Flyers women's running club invites Golfers Wanted - Military or

Big Toys for Big Boys — The Hawaii Big Boy's Expo will feature the latest trends in automotive, health and fitness, electronics, gadgets, fashion, sports and much org for a current hike schedule.

The event will be held Friday, Feb. 9, from 5-10 p.m. in the Neal S. Blaisdell Exhibition Hall on Ward Avenue.

The event will also feature an autograph signing by NFL Pro Bowl players, guest appearances by the Budweiser 2007 World Poker Tour players, video game contests, local entertainment and special attractions.

Cost is $8 for adults, $5 for children age 6-12 and seniors.

www.thehawaiibig-Visit boysshow.com.

10 / Saturday Pro Bowl Events – The annual NFL Pro Bowl game will be held at 1 p.m. in Aloha Stadium Feb 10. Active duty personnel will participate in pre-game and halftime ceremonial activities.

Events during Feb. 7-10 will include player visits to area military installations along with many other island-wide appearances.

For information on the Pro Bowl and all related activities, call 877-750-4400 or visit www.nfl.com/ probowl/information.

The GAR — The ever-popular Great Aloha Run will be held Feb. 19.

are expected to participate in this year's 8.15-mile run/walk that starts on Nimitz Street at the Aloha Tower Marketplace in downtown Honolulu (with entertainment along the route) and ends in Aloha Stadium.

Call 528-7388 or visit www.greataloharun.com for event and registration information.

Ongoing

Hunter Education Courses -The Hawaii Department of Land & Natural Resources is es.htm or call 587-0200.

offering Hunter Education classes. Subjects to be covered include wildlife identification conservation, firearms

archery safety, survival, game care and more. The free two-day classes are held each month, on a Saturday, from 5:45-10 p.m., and Sunday, 7:45 a.m.-4 p.m. Classes are family-friendly and open to anyone age

10 years and older. For locations and schedules of upcoming classes. www.hawaii.gov/dlnr/ dcre/coursand women of all ages and skill levels to join them at the University of and Hawaii track at Cooke Field. The club meets Wednesdays from 5:15-7 p.m. Cost is $50 per year. Call 277-civilian golfers interested in playing golf on Sunday mornings at Leilehua Golf Course should call 347-8038 or 375-3322. Tee time is usually before 8 a.m.

Send community announcements to community@hawaiiarmy weekly.com.

9 / Friday HTMC Hike -Hawaiian Trail & Mountain Club

Join the

for its Oahu hike Feb. 3 to Waimano Pool. Hikers will meander up Manana trail until it takes a steep drop to a pool. This is a three-mile novice hike.

A $2 donation is requested from all non-members. Visit www.htmc.

19 / Monday

More than 20,000 participants